Heritage Exhibitions

After Life ... a history of death is available opposite the College's main reception area. Please visit this free exhibition during the breaks in the symposium.

'After Life' explores changing views of death from antiquity to the present day. It uses the remarkable collections of the Royal College of Physicians of Edinburgh and its library - Scotland's oldest and largest medical library - to uncover the history of death. An original copy of Napoleon Bonaparte's post-mortem, written on Saint Helena Island, and a diary documenting the last days of celebrated Edinburgh physician James Young Simpson are displayed alongside a broadside proclaiming the execution of famous Edinburgh murderer William Burke.

Upcoming Events 2024

Throughout this academic year we will be delivering our Education Programme as a mix of hybrid, in-person and online. Most of our events and CPD/feedback surveys are open for 28 days after the event, so that you can catch-up at your convenience and from any time-zone. Alongside our popular Evening Medical Update programme we have our suite of speciality symposia and some new hot topics events to look out for.

Education Portal

Material from these events is made available beyond the on-demand period to Fellows, Members and Associates on the College's Education Portal, where you'll also find hundreds of hours of other clinical and non-clinical content.
