

Evening Meeting

RCPE: Microbiomes

Wednesday 25 September 2024 | 6.30 – 8.30pm

This interactive online seminar aims to stimulate thought and debate around Microbiomes in modern medicine.

We showcase three exceptional Scottish microbiome researchers to look at the following:

Topics

- How is the gut colonised and how might we influence this?
- Feeding your Microbiome - linking what we eat with its impact on our health via gut bacteria
- How Microbiome science is changing our understanding of lung health and disease

Guest speakers include:

- Professor James D Chalmers, Asthma and Lung UK Chair of Respiratory Research, Ninewells Hospital & University of Dundee
- Professor Konstantinos Gerasimidis, Professor of Clinical Nutrition, University of Glasgow
- Professor Karen Scott, Gut Microbiology Group, University of Aberdeen

All grades of medical, nursing, scientific staff, allied health professionals and medical students are most welcome.
